Thinking about buying your first house?
To make the preapproval process seamless, gather these financial documents:

- Your credit report – Obtain a copy as early as possible and scour it for accuracy. If time permits, pull your credit report three months before you seek a pre-approval so you have time to correct any issues or mistakes. Each major credit bureau must provide one free credit report annually to consumers requesting a copy. To obtain a report visit annualcreditreport.com. Usually, it works well to order one report every four months from a different credit bureau. But when your plan is to buy a house, check all three at once. Save up your “free” reports in the year until you’re ready to start looking for a house. Your goal is to identify discrepancies between the reports as well as to monitor your credit standing.

- W-2 forms – Make copies from the past two years.
- Paystubs – Copy of 30 days worth of pay history.
- Financial account statements – Collect statements (including retirement accounts) from the past few months.
- Lines of credit – If you have opened any in the past six months, you’ll need copies of those statements as well, since they might not show up on your credit report.
- Information on vehicles you own – Include make, model, and resale value.
- Credit card account information – Include numbers and types of cards, balances and minimum payments.
- Auto-loan account information – Include account numbers and statements.
- Other loan account information – Think student loans and personal loans.
- Gifts – If you’re fortunate enough to have any money for your down payment gifted to you, identify how much and where it will come from. Be prepared to document that it’s a gift and not a loan.

Buying Advantages:

BUILD EQUITY OVER TIME
Every dollar paid toward a mortgage principle represents equity. When you reach 20% equity you have the ability to refinance your mortgage to secure a lower interest rate or longer repayment.

TAX BENEFITS
Federal Tax Deductions: As a homeowner, you can deduct your property taxes and interest paid on your mortgage, reducing your overall taxes.

CREATIVE FREEDOM
As a homeowner, you make the call on updates you wish to see throughout your home. You can paint walls, update kitchen, or finish your basement.

Renting Advantages:

NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR MAINTENANCE OR REPAIRS
As a renter, you’re not responsible for home maintenance or repair costs. If a toilet backs up, an appliance stops working, or a pipe bursts, you just have to call your landlord.

SOME UTILITIES MAY BE INCLUDED
In many multi-unit apartments, some or all utilities, such as water, gas, electric, internet, and cable are included.

CREDIT REQUIREMENTS ARE LESS STRICT
Renting is much easier than securing a good mortgage rate. Most landlords will rent to you even if your credit score is low.

Buying Disadvantages

HIGH UPFRONT COSTS
You can expect to pay no less than 5.5% of your home’s value before moving in.

POTENTIAL FOR FINANCIAL LOSS
Although homeownership builds equity over time, home values can still decrease or remain flat.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR MAINTENANCE AND REPAIRS
As a homeowner, you’re responsible for covering the costs of all uninsured maintenance and repair work on your home.

Renting Disadvantages

NO EQUITY BUILDING
As a renter, every dollar you pay in rent is gone forever; you can’t build equity. For this reason, if you plan to stay in the same area for more than a few years, buying may be a smarter financial choice.

NO TAX BENEFITS
Renters aren’t eligible for any housing-related federal tax credits or deductions.
